Our thoughts and prayers go out to Chrissy Drobka and her family at this time. As you all know Chris had surgery on the 25th of June and then again on July 9th. She is doing very well and we hope for a speedy recovery for her.

This is a very hard time for her and her family until she is fully recovered. Please continue to keep her and her family in your prayers until she receives a clean bill of health.

On behalf of the Drobka family I thank each and every one of you for the flowers, your prayers and well wishes .

I will do something out of my comfort zone I will make my aches and pains invisible to others I will allow silence to be golden I will make clutter disappear from my desk and home I will not leave t4e gas tank on empty for t4e next driver I will challenge my mind I will not repeat yesterday's mistakes I will stretch my limits I will not allow garbage into my mind I will make music appreciation a part of my routine I will make recharging my "batteries" a priority I will plan an event to occur in t4e every near future, to give me something to look forward to

OK. I don't know where to begin because the last 2 days of my life have been such a blur. Yesterday, My youngest daughter Halle who is 4, was rushed to the emergency room by her father for being severely lethargic and incoherent. He was called to her school by the school secretary for being "very VERY sick." He told me that when he arrived that Halle was barely sitting in the chair. She couldn't hold her own head up and when he looked into her eyes, she couldn't focus them.

He immediately called me after he scooped her up and rushed her to the ER. When we got there9ot cy ain loed gest after loed gese anddid x-rday, e"very gestimaegiablet. Hrd witer loedcelle conte wa-
