To tell you a little about Kellie Murkley and Manage It, Inc. they are a 100% women owned business and a strong contender in the corporate world of cleaning services. They continue to satisfy their customers with integrity, respect and setting non comparable standards. They tailor services to fit your ever changing needs in the buildings in which they service. Appearance is everything and it is their job to make your business looking clean and professional for you, your employees and the clients in which you service. A cleaner building not only provides a better working environment for those employed but it is also a strong reflection on the public in which you service.

Manage It, Inc. is known as a green company that cleans for health. This means that they not only use environmentally safe products that protect our environment but also clean your facility in a method that doesn't threaten the health of the employees or building occupants. Going beyond appearances by implementing the philosophy that means just because it "looks" clean it may not be sanitary. By taking a holistic approach to cleaning by maintaining the entire facility and understanding that by doing one area sometimes affects another.

Education and communication is also an important component in their companies success by doing ongoing training and educating each employee on blood borne pathogens and health and safety. They also communicate with their employees on a daily basis so they are aware of the constant changes in your needs. By taking these steps Manage It, Inc. stands out among our competitors and allows us to implement some much needed positive changes to the cleaning industry.

Kellie Murkley runs this company based on good American Values. by maintaining her values, integrity, quality and family values she has built a company that gives back to society on a daily basis. She considers each "team member" part of her family and helps each one of them professionally and personally when troubles arise. By offering a monthly internal newsletter she continues to spread positive values, attitude and education. By emphasizing health and safety on a daily basis she ensures the safety of each team member as well as the health and safety of her customers.

Manage It, Inc. is a company that gives back to society before anything else. They donate a percentage of profits to non-profit organizations such as the American cancer society, Diabetes, Animal protectors, ALS as well as sending boxes of aid to our soldiers in Iraq each month. By giving back they are able to grow professionally by the selfless acts they perform on a daily basis.

Kellie Murkley is a wonderful leader and a glowing example of a business owner. She continues to give 150% to her company, her employees, her country and her God on a daily basis. I am proud to be her friend and business associate and am constantly learning by watching her lead by example.
